2022 Executive Remuneration Report

This report constitutes the Board of Directors of IDEX Biometrics ASA's report to the 2023 annual general meeting about the implementation in 2022 of the Executive Remuneration Policy adopted by the 2022 annual general meeting. The report will be subject to an advisory vote at the 2023 annual general meeting.

REMUNERATION POLICY

The Company's remuneration policy for the executives as well as guidelines for incentive programs as approved at the Annual General Meeting on 12 May 2021 are available on the Company's website. There is no stated policy for remuneration of the shareholder-elected supervisory board, other than the fees shall be proposed by the Nomination Committee and approved by the Annual General Meeting.

OBJECTIVE AND PRINCIPLES

The objective of the IDEX Group's Executive Remuneration Policy is to attract, motivate and retain highly qualified executives by providing them a balanced and competitive remuneration package that is focused on sustainable results and is aligned with the Company's long-term strategy. While we do not seek to adhere rigidly to market benchmarks, we monitor and take into account pay levels and incentive opportunities in the principal markets from which we recruit, our peer companies and international companies across industry sectors as relevant.

Many of our investors are long-term holders of our shares. We want our executives to share our shareholders' perspective and believe remuneration should align their interests accordingly. The balance between the short-term remuneration package and long-term share-based pay and share purchase plan strengthens this alignment.

The Board did not propose any changes to the pay structure in 2022 and confirms there were no deviations from the Executive Remuneration Policy in 2022.

The remuneration of the Board of Directors is proposed by the Nomination Committee and resolved by the general meeting of shareholders. The guiding principle is that the amount should reflect the time spent by, and the responsibilities of the Board of Directors members. Given the nature of responsibilities of the Board of Directors, the remuneration is not dependent on the results of the IDEX Group; it consists of a fixed compensation only.

THE COMPENSATION COMMITTEE

The board has appointed a Compensation Committee among its members. In 2022, the main activities of the Compensation Committee were:

- Preparing the 2022 Remuneration Report in line with new reporting standards under the EU Shareholder Rights Directive.
- Reviewing management's recommendations for grants under the share based programs, and also reviewing any adjustments to the frameworks of such programs, where applicable.
- Reviewing the approach for the annual salary review process, taking account of company performance and budget availability in addition to market practice and competition.
- Reviewing the approach to target-setting for, and ongoing performance against, short-term incentive pay in light of the business environment and the company's stage of development.
- Considering the incentive arrangements in light of the developing future business strategy.
- Reviewing employee benefit provision against typical market practice.

REMUNERATION OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The Board of Directors has seven directors elected by the shareholders in a general meeting. Fees to the board of directors are proposed by the Nomination Committee and approved by the annual general meeting in arrears and consist of a fixed annual base fee for the service period since prior annual general meeting and up to the annual general meeting when the fees are approved. Committee tenure is remunerated by separate, additional fees determined in the same manner. The fees are reviewed, but not necessarily increased, each year, taking into account market practice with reference to an international peer group, as well as the need to attract and retain high-caliber individuals. Members of the Board of Directors are not included in any variable pay incentive programs, share incentive programs, retirement benefit plans or other benefit plans.

BOARD REMUNERATION PAID IN 2022

The fees in the table below represent fees approved at the Annual General Meeting on May 12, 2022. The directors did not receive any other fees in the capacity of board members.

OTHER REMUNERATION TO DIRECTORS

The chair of the board, Mr. Opstad, is a partner at Advokatfirmaet Ræder AS. Ræder is the legal counsel for IDEX. Mr. Opstad executive functions beyond board duty, pursuant to an agreement dated January 30, 2018. The hourly fee for these services is invoiced by Ræder. The law firm provided services to the Company amounting to a total, including the fees to Mr. Opstad amounting to $234 thousand in 2022 and $338 thousand in 2021.

Mr. Ciaccia has served on IDEX's Strategy Advisory Council (SAC) since January 2014 and continues his tenure on the SAC. Mr. Ciaccia also provides consulting services to IDEX. The combined fee for SAC service and consulting services amounted to $58 thousand in 2022 and $65 thousand in 2021.

We do not grant subscription rights to Directors, in their capacity as such. Mr. Ciaccia holds 600,000 incentive subscription rights which were originally granted to him on August 15, 2018, in his capacity of adviser to the company. The exercise price was NOK 5.10 per share. The 2018 subscription rights were replaced by a grant of the same quantity of subscription rights effective June 17, 2020, at subscription price NOK 1.71 per share. The subscription rights vest by annually over three years and expire on May 15, 2025.

CHANGES IN THE REMUNERATION TO THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

There were no changes to the remuneration of the board in 2022 other than 2022 reflecting a full year of fees for the audit committee and fees paid to new committee members in 2022. In 2021, the remuneration of the board of directors was increased compared to the prior years to reflect the additional responsibility of members due to IDEX's listing of its ADSs on the Nasdaq Capital Market in the United States. The introduction of a separate compensation committee as of the fourth quarter of 2019 and a separate audit committee as of the first quarter 2021 caused committee-specific additional fees to be paid as of 2020 and 2021, respectively.

The amounts above are the cash remuneration as approved by the respective annual general meetings. The effect of any election by the director to take all or part of the remuneration in shares has not been taken into account.

REMUNERATION OF EXECUTIVES

REMUNERATION COMPONENTS

The Remuneration Policy sets out the principles for executive remuneration. IDEX provides the same remuneration components to its executives as to the employees at large:

- Base pay
- Variable cash pay
- Share-based programs
- Insurance, pension contribution and other benefits

There have not been any deviations from the policy in 2022.

Base pay

The base pay is a fixed cash salary. The base pay is in line with the market for corresponding jobs in the industry and location. Position scoping is based on job content. Within scope, the pay can be adjusted to reflect the individual's expertise and performance. The scoping and level within scope is normally reviewed annually.

Variable cash pay

The Company's annual incentive program for the executives includes revenue generation as a gating and scaling component. In addition, various financial and operational components like product margin, operating expense, product development, supply chain performance and organizational improvement are factored in.

The components are selected from the company's business strategy and operational plans. The variable elements of the remuneration promote the company's goals and align employees' and shareholders' motivation. Full target incentive pay achievement is expressed as a percentage of base pay, up to 100%. In order to have the ability to recognize instances of significant revenue and profitability achievements, variable pay awards may exceed target levels if certain key company performance metrics within the plan have been exceeded in any particular year, but may not exceed 200% of annual base pay.

The following criteria were in effect in 2022. The measurement scale and achievement are not disclosed because of competitive considerations. The criteria reflected the company's strategy of profitable growth, technical innovation and product development, cost control, and organizational development.

Criterion	Weight	Alignment with strategy and shareholders' interests
Gross margin	10%	Shareholder value creation and sustainable financial results are dependent on profit
Product development and release	70%	Intellectual property creation is a pivotal factor in creating and maintaining competitive advantage
Opex spending vs. budget	10%	A sustainable business needs to practice financial discipline
HR development actions	10%	The intellectual property and operational effectiveness and efficiency is created by IDEX's human resources
Revenue multiplier; Multiplier of the weighted achievement of the above	Multiplier	Generating revenue is fundamental to building a viable business from IDEX's technology and absent revenue growth, the other factors have no value

The overall achievement on the above criteria was scaled with a revenue multiplier. The compensation committee and the board reviews performance against criteria and determines the bonus achievement. Overall achievement in 2022, including the revenue multiplier, was 44/100 of target bonus. In view of the company's commercial and financial situation at the end of 2022, no incentive pay was awarded to Mr. Graziani.

The incentive pay is normally settled in cash. The board may also decide to settle all or part of the incentive pay in shares. Incentives are paid pro rata when the executive has not served the full period. Incentives are normally paid only if the executive remains employed on the settlement date.

The board may offer specific one-off incentive payments related to successful completion of certain key projects. Such incentives will be in addition to any annual incentives. Such one-off incentives may not exceed 25% of annual base pay in a calendar year.

Incentives are paid only in arrears. IDEX's employment agreements do not have any clawback provisions. In cases of misconduct and misinformation, clawback may or may not be successful based on applicable legislation.

No clawbacks of variable pay have been attempted or conducted in 2022.

Share-based programs

The executives participate in the same share-based programs that are in effect for all employees; currently the subscription rights-based incentive program (SR program) and the employee share purchase plan (ESPP). The share-based remuneration programs are each year presented to and resolved by the annual general meeting before they are implemented by the board. To align the executives' financial interest with the shareholders', the SR program will yield a gain to the executives only if the share price increases, and a four-year vesting by 25% per year balances short-term attractiveness and long-term retention effect. The ESPP is designed to motivate executives to invest in the company. By investing in the company, the executives will have joint interests with the shareholders at large.

The SR program is based on a grant of subscription rights with exercise price at-the money on the grant date. The option value of new hire grants on grant date have been in the bracket 50%-200% of annual base pay. The bracket is wide because the share-based incentive element must be tailored to the role and should also be reflective of market compensation practice in the location from which the role is based. This element must also provide a strong incentive for key executives to create shareholder value.

Subject to the board's discretion, the exercise price may also be set below market price on the grant date for up to 1% of the registered number of shares in company as of the 2022 Annual General Meeting, but under no circumstance lower than the par value of the shares.

Grants in 2022 are shown in the "Grants of Subscription Rights to Executives" table presented below.

There have not been practiced any lock-up periods after exercise, but this may be determined by the board if the board considers it to be in the long-term interest of the company. The company has a practice of making annual new grants at about ¼ value of the new hire grant.

Executives did not exercise any subscription rights in 2022.

The ESPP allows the participant to convert up to 20% of the base salary into shares, by contributing an amount from each paycheck during six months, and purchasing new issue shares at 15% discount on lower of the share price at beginning and end of the contribution period.

Messrs. Graziani and Eaton participated in the ESPP. The reported benefit is the nominal discount upon acquisition of the shares.

Insurance, pension contribution and other benefits

Executives are enrolled in the same insurance, pension and other benefits programs as offered to all employees in the same location. The company does not offer any pension schemes to executives other than contribution to insured pension schemes or pension investment, as customary in the location. Pension contribution is earned only on base pay, unless additional contributions are legally mandated in the location.

Contractual arrangements

The employment agreements with the executives are set up in line with the employment agreements in the entity where the executive is employed, with any position-specific modifications.

Executive	Duration	Notice period	Pension	Termination terms
Vincent Graziani, CEO	Open-ended at will employment agreement with IDEX Biometrics America Inc.	6 months	No contribution	3 months salary paid unless terminated by the company for cause. No other post-employment salary or benefits.

1 Benefits such as medical and life insurance or pension contribution.

2 Variable pay is reported in the year it is paid, which will be the year following the performance year, when results are known.

3 The reported amount is the amortised cost in the year under IFRS 2 Share-based payments, for incentive subscription rights. The reported amount for ESPP is the nominal discount in shares acquired in 2022 and 2021. Both amounts represent an upfront calculation and do not represent any gain from the plans.

4 Ms. Wynne was appointed interim CFO in August 2022. Prior to then, she supported IDEX on a consulting basis.

5 Ms. Eklof is an individual contractor on assignment for IDEX as of June 1, 2021. The salary and incentive amounts reported are the gross invoiced amounts which will cover also any employer's taxes and other employer benefits. The 2021 incentive was a sign-on fee.

6 Mr. Swearingen served as CEO from April 2018 to February 2020.

7 Mr. Mardia served as CEO until March 2018.

8 Mr. Simms served as CFO from April 2021 to August 2022.

9 Mr. D'Antilio served as CFO from July 2019 to April 2021.

10 Mr. Knudtzon stepped down as CFO in July 2019.

11 Mr. Benkley stepped down as CTO in March 2019 where after he continued as Chief Innovation Officer.

Mr. Eaton and Ms. Eklof received salary increases in 2022. There were no salary adjustments in 2021 other than those required by statute. The increase from 2020 to 2021 was a result of a temporary reduction of salaries in March-May 2020.

KEY FINANCIAL PERFORMANCE FIGURES AND EXECUTIVE PAY RATIO

The table below shows key figures related to financial performance, number of employees and average remuneration for employees for the last five years:

Key Figures	2022	2021	2020	2019	2018
Total Revenue (USD thousand)	$4,091	$2,840	$1,095	$424	$440
Net Loss (USD thousand)	$(32,662)	$(32,552)	$(26,754)	$(32,423)	$(30,225)
Number of employees	90	95	102	109	99
Change in average salary all employees ¹	-7% ²	20% ³	-18% ⁴	5%	3%

² The decrease was the result of a reduction in workforce that occurred in the last half of 2022

³ The increase was a result of customary salary increases as well as 2020 salary expense reflecting a temporary reduction of salaries in that year

⁴ The decrease was a result of temporary salary reductions in March-May 2020 due to cost containment measures

Average salary measured in USD is influenced by currency rates and different salary levels and increases in the markets in which IDEX Biometrics operates. At the end of 2022, 43% of the group's employees were employed in the US, 36% in the UK, 16% in Norway and 5% in China. Product development employees comprise about 74% of the workforce in the group.

We apply the same basic principles to the Executive remuneration as we do for all our employees, benchmarking salaries against the relevant external market for the role.

The CEO to average employee remuneration ratio for 2018-2022 is shown in the table below. Average remuneration is based on all employee costs, including incentives and benefits.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S ASSURANCE REPORT ON REMUNERATION REPORT

To the General Meeting of IDEX Biometrics ASA

Opinion

We have performed an assurance engagement to obtain reasonable assurance that IDEX Biometrics ASA's 2022 Executive Remuneration Report (the remuneration report) for the financial year ended 31 December 2022 has been prepared in accordance with section 6-16 b of the Norwegian Public Limited Liability Companies Act and the accompanying regulation.

In our opinion, the remuneration report has been prepared, in all material respects, in accordance with section 6-16 b of the Norwegian Public Limited Liability Companies Act and the accompanying regulation.

Board of directors' responsibilities

The board of directors is responsible for the preparation of the remuneration report and that it contains the information required in section 6-16 b of the Norwegian Public Limited Liability Companies Act and the accompanying regulation and for such internal control as the board of directors determines is necessary for the preparation of a remuneration report that is free from material misstatements, whether due to fraud or error.

Our independence and quality control

We are independent of the company in accordance with the requirements of the relevant laws and regulations in Norway and the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants' International Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (including International Independence Standards) (IESBA Code), and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. Our firm applies International Standard on Quality Control 1 (ISQC 1) and accordingly maintains a comprehensive system of quality control including documented policies and procedures regarding compliance with ethical requirements, professional standards and applicable legal and regulatory requirements.

Auditor's responsibilities

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on whether the remuneration report contains the information required in section 6-16 b of the Norwegian Public Limited Liability Companies Act and the accompanying regulation and that the information in the remuneration report is free from material misstatements. We conducted our work in accordance with the International Standard for Assurance Engagements (ISAE) 3000 – "Assurance engagements other than audits or reviews of historical financial information".

We obtained an understanding of the remuneration policy approved by the general meeting. Our procedures included obtaining an understanding of the internal control relevant to the preparation of the remuneration report in order to design procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the company's internal control. Further we performed procedures to ensure completeness and accuracy of the information provided in the remuneration report, including whether it contains the information required by the law and accompanying regulation. We believe that the evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.
